LAREDO REBEL GENERAL STICKS TO HIS CHIEF

FIRST REPLY TO PAN-AMERICAN NOTE REFERS POWERS TO CARRANZA

Laredo, Texas, Aug. 16.—General Alfred Ricaut, commander of Carranza forces in the Nuevo Laredo district, Sunday night dispatched to Washington a reply to the Pan-American appeal to Mexican leaders that they meet on neutralized ground and reconstruct a constitutional government in the southern republic, in which he expresses the belief that any communication dealing with Mexican affairs should be made personally to General Carranza, "the supreme authority in our country and the only man whom a soldier would in every exigency obey."

Ricaut's reply is believed here to forecast the stand many other Carranza military leaders will take on the Pan-American appeal which was delivered to Mexican officials in Nuevo Laredo Sunday by American Consul A. B. Garrett.

Ricaut, in his reply, says that Carranza, since the assassination of Madero, has been the only "minister or legal authority to fight for constitutional order and that he has continued as the only recognized authority." All honorable Mexicans, he states, are convinced Carranza is the only capable leader, and has demonstrated "his ability to satisfy the just aspirations of the people."

TWO WOMEN AVOID OPERATIONS

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Chicago, Ill.—"I must thank you with all my heart for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I used to go to my doctor for pills and remedies and they did not help me. I had headaches and could not eat, and the doctor claimed I had female trouble and must have an operation. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have taken it and feel fine. A lady said one day, 'Oh, I feel so tired all the time and have headache.' I said, 'Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound,' and she did and feels fine now."—Mrs. M. R. Karschick, 1438 N. Paulina Street, Chicago, Illinois.

The Other Case.
Dayton, Ohio.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound relieved me of pains in my side that I had for years and which doctors' medicines failed to relieve. It has certainly saved me from an operation. I will be glad to assist you by a personal letter to any woman in the same condition."—Mrs. J. W. Sherer, 126 Cass St., Dayton, Ohio.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

TOM HELL, THE OIL FIELD MAN OF MYSTERY

LIVED FOR MANY YEARS IN CAVE ON THE CIMARRON;
STORY REVIVED

Penita, Okla., Aug. 16.—Who was Tom Hell, a long, wiry, mysterious individual who came to the oil field district during the winter of 1890-91 and made his home for several months in a big cave that still bears his name? All the first day citizens in this locality remember him well and tell stories of his mysterious comings and goings, yet there is not a one of them was ever able to identify him. That he was an outlaw all are agreed, but why he was in hiding at that time has remained an unsolved problem.

The Tom Hell cave is north of the Cimarron river, some distance from the mouth of Clear creek. It is one of the most spacious caverns in the Cimarron river territory, large enough to house a number of men and their horses, and during the winter months when the ice in the creek is frozen, it is possible to drive a team and wagon into the opening, and have them completely out of sight. This was done numerous times, the old timers say, while Tom Hell inhabited the cave.

While Hell was in this vicinity, he was frequently visited by other outlaws and bands of outlaws, who seemed to know him well. He was always at home to any and all of them, and his place was a recognized rendezvous during that winter. Oklahoma Territory had been opened a settlement but a short time and the Indian country was overrun by the bandit hands. For a number of years after Hell quit his hiding place in the many rocks about the cave's entrance, evidently he had taken a great delight in carving it. During his residence there also a barricade of rocks was placed a part of the way across the opening, with several convenient portholes by which the path to the cave could be guarded.

"Several years after Tom Hell left these parts," said Dr. Bland recently, "I was a visitor in the federal court at Vinita. The man on trial, at that time, on a whisky selling charge, attracted my attention because I knew I had seen him or been acquainted with him at some time in the past. All at once my memory placed him—it was Tom Hell, but we never found out just who he was."

Mrs. Martha Neal, deputy district court clerk has returned from a two weeks' vacation spent with Dr. Sarah A. Burns at Bartlesville.

CARRANZA SEES THE LIGHT AND WILL BE GOOD

twenty-five men, under Major Bowley as field officer, was also ordered to Brownsville at once.

Soldiers Mobilizing on Border.

Brownsville, Texas, Aug. 16.—The Twenty-fifth United States Infantry from Texas City, began arriving here late Sunday night. In the minds of Rio Grande valley residents, there was no doubt that the only purpose of these reinforcements, together with artillery and an aeroplane expected in a few days is a precaution against two distinct classes of danger from the Mexican side of the border. One of these fears is of bandits and the other is of organized reprisal from Mexican armies in case of a demonstration by American troops either at Nogales, Arizona, or Vera Cruz.

There is no outward evidence of any preparation by the Mexican authorities along the lower Rio Grande border for such reprisals, but, notwithstanding emphatic denials by Carranza commanders that such reprisals are possible, many Americans along the border refuse to believe that danger does not exist. There is, however, a notable division of opinion here as to the attitude of Carranza troops in the present trouble. The arrival of additional troops here has brought a feeling of security. When the reinforcements are complete, Col. A. P. Blockson, at Fort Brown, will have available about two thousand men, with a variety of equipment believed sufficient for any sort of emergency campaign.

It was reported here that one of two artillery batteries coming from Fort Sill would carry four pound Howitzers suitable for siege operations. Two battalions of infantry sent here from Laredo during the middle of last week started for Laredo today to restore the patrol there to adequate strength.

Outbreak Appears Quelled.

Meanwhile the outbreak of the plan of San Diego revolution in the lower Rio Grande valley which created a suspicion that more serious dangers exist than this visionary scheme, appears to have been completely quelled. It is one week Sunday night, since the last attack. That on the orias ranch house, and which was made under the San Diego plan, Captain J. M. Fox of the Texas rangers, said Sunday that he believes all the leaders in this plan have either been driven across into Mexico, killed, or driven into hiding on the American side, where about three dozen rangers continue a relentless search for them. Captain Fox said he believed only a few of these bandits now are alive on the American side of the border. He estimated that a total number of Mexicans active in raids at not more than one hundred. Some peace officers, however, declare they have evidence that fully 200 Mexicans participated either directly or indirectly in the raids.

The number of bandits and suspects killed in the cleanup of raiders is not known. The authorities have not announced the figures and residents of the sections where suspects have been pursued usually refuse to give information. The estimates of the killed, however, range from thirty to one hundred.

In most communities of the lower valley there is now no evidence of panic among the population. Some points near the river, however, are taking extra precaution. At a small settlement named Lopaloma, the only resident remaining Saturday was a store-keeper. Others had left because of fear of depredations.

Two armed Mexicans appeared at the home of a farmer twenty miles above here early Sunday. They found only the housewife at home, and told her that her husband had been pernickious in assisting officers to hunt out Mexican outlaws and threatened the lives of the family if they did not leave the country by sundown. The occurrence was reported to San Benito and detachments of United States soldiers were sent to guard the family.

Brownsville, Tex., Aug. 16.—A detachment of United States cavalry patrol was fired on last night from the Mexican side, near Mercedes, thirty miles up the Rio Grande. The cavalry returned the fire. No American casualties reported.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's recipe to bring back color, thickness and lustre—Everybody is using it again.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold. Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

NONE ON THE MARKET BETTER.

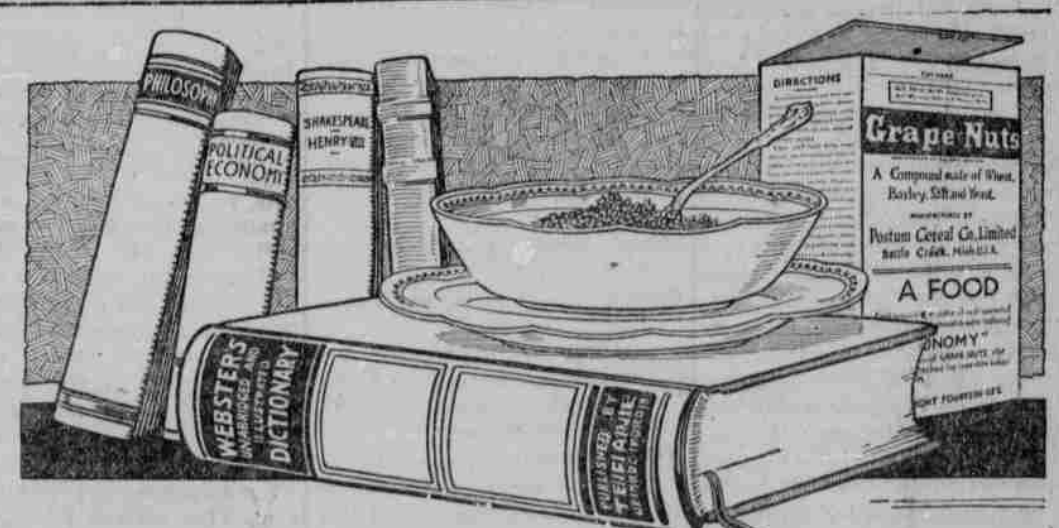

Milburn, Okla.—"I can truthfully say that I do not think there is any medicine on the market to-day better than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Discovery. I feel that I owe my life to same."

About seventeen years ago I was run down in health, the principal trouble was irregularity and my lungs seemed affected. After taking six bottles each of 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery' I was entirely well and I never fail to recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to suffering women whom I chance to meet.

"I hope my testimony will be the means of bringing good health to many a sufferer."—Mrs. EVA PHEMISTER, Route 1, Box 39, Milburn, Okla.

An affection confined to women must have its cause in the womanly nature. There is no doubt that a diseased condition of the delicate womanly organs, is in general responsible for feminine nervousness and an undermined constitution. The use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes women happy by making them healthy. There are no more crying spells. "Favorite Prescription" cures inflammation, ulceration and female weakness. It makes weak women strong, sick women well. Get the "Prescription" today—either in liquid or tablet form—if you want to better your physical condition speedily. Like an open book, our faces tell the tale of health or disease. Hollow cheeks and sunken eyes, listless steps and languorous looks tell of wasting debilitating disease some place in the body. It may be one place or another, the cause is generally traceable to a common source.
